No. 94.—The following resolution of the Government of India is republished :—

HOME DEPARTMENT

PUBLIC.

Delhi, the 7th March 1921.

No. 632—The Government have had recently under consideration the question of the right of Government officers to explain and defend in public the policy of the Government. The existing orders on this subject are contained in rules 20, 22 and 23 of the Government Servants' Conduct Rules. Under rule 20 a Government servant may not publish in the press any statement of fact or opinion which may embarrass the relations between the Government and any section of the people; under rule 22 he may not take part in any political movement, nor attend any political meeting at which his presence is likely to be misconstrued; and under rule 23 he may not interfere or use his influence in any way in an election to a legislative council, except that he may record a vote, if he is qualified to do so. These rules were framed many years ago; in the interval the conditions have greatly altered; and in the Report on the Indian Constitutional Reforms it was recommended that in view of these changes there should be greater liberty of action to the European public servant in India. "He might not," it was urged and of course the same considerations apply to the Indian public servant, "to leave the task of political education solely to the politicians. He too must explain and persuade and argue and refute." This view was endorsed by the Joint Committee in their Report on the Government of India Bill.

2. The Government of India realize the objections to the participation in politics of Government officers. They recognize that it is the clear duty of their officers to refrain from any action that might lay them open to the charge of attempting to influence the course of an election. They recognize too that in the main the defence of the policy of Government is the concern of the Government itself, and in regard to most matters of public interest they do not desire that their officers should embark on vigorous propaganda on their interests. But, in the conditions now obtaining, there are subjects on which Government officers cannot be prohibited from expressing their views merely because by so doing they will run counter to the tenets of a political party. The non-co-operation movement is a clear instance in point. A campaign is being carried on at the present moment by the adherents of this movement which has for its objects the paralysis of the Government, and which seeks to attain this object by seditious and unscrupulous propaganda amongst the masses of the people. In regard to movements of this kind Government officers cannot be required to maintain an attitude of silence and aloofness. They must be permitted—indeed it is their duty—to counter and refute such propaganda; and if their action in this direction is to be fully effective, it may be necessary on occasion for them to address public meetings.

3. The Government of India have therefore decided, with the approval of the Secretary of State, that in future, and subject to certain clear limitations, Government officers will be allowed to explain and defend in public the policy of the Government. The action taken must be for the purpose of removing misapprehensions, correcting misstatements, or refuting disloyal and seditious propaganda; so far as possible there should be no reference to the personality of parties or individuals who may be in opposition to the Government; and when elections are impending Government officers must be careful that they give no ground for the suggestion that statements of facts or views made by them have been made with the object of influencing the electors in favour of, or against, any party or an individual candidate. Further, no statement of acts of opinion on public matters may be published by a Government servant in the press under his own name without the permission of the local Government. But subject to these conditions Government officers will be at liberty to defend and explain the policy of Government either in interviews with the members of the public, at local Durbars, or on the platform. Rules 22 and 23 of the Government Servants' Conduct Rules have accordingly been redrafted and a copy of the revised rules is appended to this Resolution.

Amendments in the Government Servants' Conduct Rules.

Rule 22—(1) A Government servant may, for the purpose of removing misapprehensions, correcting misstatements and refuting disloyal and seditious propaganda, defend and explain in public the policy of the Government. Save, however, as provided in rules 17, 18, 19, a Government servant may not make any communication to the press in regard to the policy or acts of the Government without the sanction of the local Government or such superior authority as the local Government may prescribe.

(2) In any action taken by them under sub-paragraph (1) Government servants should, as far as possible, refrain from making any reference to the personality of parties or individuals who may be in opposition to the Government and when elections are impending, they must give no ground for the suggestion that any statements of facts or views made by them have been made with the object of influencing electors in favour of or against any party or individual candidate.

Rule 23—(1) Save as provided in rule 21 or when acting under the express instructions of the local Government, a Government servant may not take part in or subscribe in aid of, any political movement in India or relating to Indian affairs. Where there is room for doubt whether any action which a Government servant proposes to take will contravene this provision, he should refer the matter to the local Government to which or to the Government servant to whom he is immediately subordinate.

(2) A Government servant, who is a whole-time Government servant, may not by canvassing or otherwise, interfere or use his influence in any way, in an election to a legislative council except that he may record a vote, if he is qualified to do so, and in that case he should, as far as possible, avoid giving any indication beforehand of the direction in which he intends to vote.

(3) A Government servant, who is a whole time Government servant, may not, save to the extent permissible in the case of elections to legislative councils or unless he is himself a candidate, who is legally eligible and has obtained from proper authority such permission, if any, as is required to enable him to stand for election, take part in elections to municipal committees, district boards and local boards.

Fort St. George, March 28, 1921.

No. 33.—The following letter with the enclosure is published :—

Letter—from G. T. BOAG, Esq., I.C.S., Superintendent of Census Operations.

To—the Secretary to Government, Law (Miscellaneous) Department.

Dated—Madras, the 24th March 1921.

No.—1591.

I have the honour to submit a statement showing the provisional results of the Census taken on Friday, March 18th; the figures are given separately for each district of the Presidency (including the City of Madras), for the States of Travancore and Cochin, Pudukkottai, Banganapalle and Sandur, for the Province of Coorg, and for the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore. I also give comparative figures for the sixteen towns which, by virtue of a population exceeding 20,000, claim to rank as cities. Bellary under the orders of Government is still included in this list, though its population has fallen below 20,000; Mangalore, Tinnevelly, Rajahmundry and Vellore are new additions to the list; and no town previously included in the list has at this Census fallen out.

2. I do not propose to offer any comment on the figures at this stage, beyond the remark that the slight increase of population recorded is almost exactly what a study of the vital statistics of the past decade suggests. The normal growth of the population received a severe check in the epidemic of influenza which visited every district in 1918. Some districts have failed to make good the loss of population due to this epidemic; but on the whole the population of British Territory has increased by 2·2 per cent, and that of British Territory and Indian States together by 2·4 per cent. The population of British Territory has risen since 1911 by 916,856 to 42,822,270; and the population of the Presidency including the Indian States has increased by 1,500,094 to 47,702,209.

3. For the promptitude with which these figures have reached me, I am indebted to the energetic co-operation of district officers, to whom thanks are also due for the care and attention devoted to the preparations for the enumeration. To the host of supervisors and enumerators, official and non-official, whose services alone made the taking of the Census possible, I wish to express my acknowledgments; and especially to those Government servants and Corporation employees who in Madras City devoted much of their leisure to this work. To Mr. Bower and Mr. Nicholas of the Madras Corporation is due the success of the enumeration in the city.

4. Lastly, I must express my gratitude to Mr. Gilbert of the Government Press and his staff for the unfailing response which they have made to my demands. In spite of strikes, in spite of the pressure of urgent work involved by the elections, the Government Press succeeded in printing and distributing all the forms necessary for the enumeration; and if some districts received them late, the blame must be attributed not to the Press, but to the heavy rain in January which breached the South Indian Railway line and cut communications to the South. The despatch of all these forms, printed in six different languages, to the proper destination, involves much work and close attention; and that only in very few cases have mistakes been reported is a matter for congratulation. In printing this letter and the statement Mr. Gilbert has equalled, if he has not surpassed, the record of 1911.

NOTICE REGARDING THE LEASE OF NUX VOMICA SEEDS IN THE SEVERAL DISTRICTS OF THIS PRESIDENCY.

THE right to collect Nux Vomica seeds in 30 forest divisions of the Presidency will be sold in public auction for the three years commencing from 1st July 1921 on the dates, at the places specified in the annexed statement, subject to the conditions stated below:

The sales will generally cover all Government Forest lands except in agency tracts and will be held for each Forest Division as one unit.

2. No person will be allowed to bid at the auction unless he has previously deposited a sum of Rs. 100 as earnest money or has deposited a sum of Rs. 5,000 in a Government Bank or Treasury to cover all the sales, when he should produce the receipt at each sale. Except in the case of recognised firms of some standing, every person who has furnished the above deposit should further produce a certificate as to his solvency duly signed by the Tahsildar or Deputy Tahsildar within whose jurisdiction such person usually resides or owns properties before any sale can be confirmed in his name. No person will be allowed to bid for another or for himself and others unless he holds a power-of-attorney duly executed in his favour authorising him to bid on behalf of such other person. The deposits of all unsuccessful bidders will be returned to them soon after the sales are over, while that of the successful bidder will be retained.

3. All sales are subject to the confirmation by the Conservator of the Circle who reserves to himself the right of rejecting any bid without assigning any reason for so doing.

4. The sale list shall be signed by the highest bidder of every lease immediately after the sale is knocked down in his name, and a certificate should also be appended therein by him to the effect that he has read and understood the terms of the sale notice and that he agrees to abide by them.

5. If the total amount of the bids for any one Circle is Rs. 5,000 or below, the full amount will have to be credited to Government immediately after the receipt of the order confirming the sale. If the amount of the bid exceeds this limit, it may be remitted in instalments to be arranged. The deposit money referred to in paragraph 2 supra will be credited towards the first instalment.

6. A security deposit not exceeding 25 per cent of the total amount of the lease may be required to be deposited before any collection of seeds is permitted. A duly stamped agreement shall also be executed by every successful bidder within 14 days from the date of receipt by him of the order sanctioning the sale in the prescribed form which can be seen at Forest Range, Division or Circle office during office hours. Unless and until the security deposit is furnished and the agreement executed as above, no contractor will be allowed to commence work in respect of his contract. The security deposit may be in Post Office Savings Bank or in Government promissory-notes.

7. In case the successful bidder of any lease fails to furnish the security deposit or to execute the agreement referred to in paragraph 6 above, such lease will be resold at the risk and loss of such bidder who will not only forfeit any deposits already furnished by him but will also be liable for the loss, if any, accruing by the resale. He will not, however, be entitled to the profit, if any, that may result from the resale. Any removal of produce by the contractor or his hour or agent before the execution of agreement will be treated as an offence punishable under the Forest Act.

8. Interest at 9½ per cent will be collected on all overdue payments, part of a month being reckoned as a whole month.

9. Intending bidders may obtain at any time any further particulars regarding the sales at the District Forest office concerned.

10. The following are the important conditions, among others, subject to which agreements must be executed by the successful contractors:—

(c) That the contractor shall not claim any compensation for land granted on patta or for any other purpose during the currency of the lease.

(d) Government reserve the right to early burn any part or all of the area in reserved Forest covered by the lease whenever it is found necessary to do so as a preventive against fires, and no compensation will be granted for any loss sustained by the lessee through such early burning.

11. Intending contractors are advised that a licence will probably have to be procured under the Indian Poisons Act XII of 1919 before collection starts.

SALE OF ASSESSED WASTE AND TANK-BED LANDS IN THE DIVI TALUK.

NOTICE is hereby given that full ryotwari rights in the assessed waste and tank-bed lands which are situated in the Divi Island of the Divi taluk, Kistna district, and are commanded by the Divi Pumping System will be sold in public auction by the Headquarters Deputy Collector at his office at Avanigadda on 13th April 1921, at Nagayalanka on 14th April to 15th April 1921, and Kodur on 18th April 1921 and 19th April 1921 or on such adjourned dates and at such places as may thereafter be notified. But the selling officer may at any time during the sale refuse to bring to sale all the lands advertised for sale if he considers that adequate prices have not been realized for the plots theretofore sold or for other reasons.

2. The land to be sold will be divided into separate fields subdivided and durably demarcated. Lists giving the survey number, the extent and assessment of each field can be obtained on application to the Headquarters Deputy Collector. Lists will also be given to the karnams of the villages concerned for distribution and will be available at the time of the sale.

3. The lots will be subject to the following conditions:—

(a) The lands will be knocked down to the highest bidder approved by the selling officer subject to confirmation by the District Collector, who will be at liberty to accept or reject any bid without assigning reasons.

(b) The Deputy Collector may fix, upset prices and may accept or reject any bid without assigning reasons. He may withdraw any field from auction and may put up two or more fields in one lot subject to a maximum of ten acres.

(c) Persons who wish to bid must be prepared to adduce proof of their position and means and must pay an initial deposit of Rs 50. At the conclusion of the sale, the deposits of the unsuccessful bidders will be returned; the initial deposits of successful bidders will be credited towards the deposit required under clause (e) below.

(d) Persons intending to bid shall notify to the Deputy Collector whether they are bidding on their own account or as agents for other persons: in the latter case, they must file a written authority from their principals, otherwise their bids will be rejected.

(e) The deposit of a successful bidder will be 10 per cent of the purchase-money in each case. This should be paid immediately on the completion of the sale, if the percentage is not covered by the initial deposit. Successful bidders must, within one month from the date of confirmation of the sales pay not less than one-half of the balance at the full amount of their bid and execute an agreement in the prescribed form binding themselves to pay the balance, if any, not later than the 1st March 1922 with interest at 6½ per cent.

(f) The purchaser of any lot will be required to pay, along with the deposit referred to in clause (e), the value as set out in the sale list of all trees standing thereon. If for any reason the sale is not confirmed or if the lot is relinquished under clause (a) or clause (c), the price paid for the trees at the value aforesaid will be refunded to the purchaser after deducting the value of any trees removed by him.

(g) The successful bidder will receive a ryotwari patta after confirmation of the sale by the Collector and after payment by the bidder of the full purchase-money together with the cost of demarcating the land. He will be informed of the cost of such demarcation at the time of the sale or as soon afterwards as possible and shall pay the cost within one month of being informed of the cost.

(h) If the purchaser fails to execute the agreement referred to in clause (e) or clause (f) or to deposit or to pay any sum due under clause (e) or clause (g) on or before the due date, he will forfeit the amount already deposited and paid and the lot will be resold at his risk.

(i) The lands will be sold as 'dry' subject to the payment of the annual assessment at the dry rates mentioned in the lists referred to in paragraph 2 above and of such local and other cesses as may have been or may hereafter be imposed. The present classifications of soil and rates of assessment will be liable to revision in connexion with any future general revision of the land revenue settlement of the taluk. As regards charges for irrigation, the lands are subject to the rules set forth in section E of appendix I to Board's Standing Order No 4 and to any alterations which may be made therein from time to time.

(j) Persons whose bids are confirmed by the Collector will be required to pay the assessment and cesses due on the lands purchased with effect from fasli 1331 unless crops are grown on the lands in fasli 1330, in which case the payment of assessment and cesses will commence from fasli 1330.

(k) A proportionate refund of the purchase-money will be allowed if the deficiency between the extent notified for sale and the actual extent exceeds 10 per cent, provided that the refund is claimed within six months from the date of confirmation of the sale.

(l) So much of the land as may hereafter be required for channels, drainage works, bothies or other works connected with irrigation or for roads or other communal or public purposes shall be surrendered by the purchaser on demand. In such cases he will be allowed a refund of the proportionate purchase money and the extent surrendered and taken up will be removed from his patta. The Collector of the district shall be the sole judge as to which lands are required for such purposes.

(m) Existing and customary rights to foot-paths, bandy tracts, water courses, bothies, etc., will not be effected in any way by the sale of the lands on which they are situated.

(n) Should it be found within three years from the date of confirmation of the sale that any land so sold is not irrigable, or should the Executive Engineer in charge of the Divi Pumping Project declare that it is undesirable for any technical reason to irrigate any such land, the purchaser shall have the option of cancelling the sale and relinquishing the land. If he elects to cancel the sale and relinquish the land, the purchase-money shall be returned and thereupon the purchaser shall have no claim to any damages on account of the cancellation of the sale. If he elects to retain the land he shall have no claim to a supply of water. In such cases the relinquishment of portions of a single lot will not be accepted.

(o) If in any other case any purchaser shall, within three years from the date of receipt of a ryotwari patta under clause 3 (g), unconditionally relinquish the full extent of land purchased in a single lot, his purchase-money less five per cent will be refunded to him.

This concession applies only to purchasers and to their heirs and not to transferees.

4. Purchasers are hereby informed that cultivation under the Divi Pumping system is not advisable before the 1st July and is not safe after the 15th November as the water is liable to be brackish before and after those dates; there is risk in attempting to raise a six months' crop.

P. L. MOORE,
Collector.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

The object of this Bill is to validate the action which has been taken in connection with the property formerly belonging to certain missions. The missions in question were either German Missions or were found to be tainted by German influence, and during the war Government decided to take action against them under the Enemy Trading Act, 1916. The properties belonging to the missions were vested in the various Custodians of Enemy Property in the Provinces in question by orders of the Governor General in Council issued under section 7 of the Act. By further orders of the Governor General in Council the Custodians were directed to transfer these properties to Boards of Trustees which were formed in Madras, with reference to properties in the Madras and Bombay Presidencies, in Bihar and Orissa, with reference to properties in the Provinces of Bihar and Orissa, the United Provinces and Assam, in Burma, with reference to properties in Burma, and in Assam, with reference to certain properties of a Roman Catholic Mission in that Province. The transfers were made to these Boards of Trustees who were empowered to administer the properties subject to certain trusts.

The Trusts have been framed so that the trustees shall carry on the educational, religious and charitable work of the displaced missions. The Bill provides for the incorporation of each of the Boards of Trustees, for the validation of appointments of Trustees which have been made in the past, and for the method of appointment of Trustees in the future. The Bill further validates the indentures by which the properties were transferred to the Trustees.

DELHI,
The 25th February 1921.

W. H. VINCENT.

The following Bill was introduced in the Council of State on the 24th February 1921 :—

No. 5 of 1921.

A Bill further to amend the Land Acquisition Act, 1894.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Land Acquisition Act, 1894; It is hereby enacted as follows :— I of 1894.

Short title. 1. This Act may be called the Land Acquisition (Amendment) Act, 1921

Amendment of section 26, Act I of 1894. 2. Section 26 of the Land Acquisition Act, 1894 (hereinafter referred to as the said Act), shall be re-numbered 26 (1), and to the said section the following sub-section shall be added, namely :— I of 1894.

"(2) Every such award shall be deemed to be a decree and the grounds of every such award a judgment within the meaning of section 2, clause (2), and section 2, clause (9), respectively, of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908." V of 1908.

Substitution of new section for section 54, Act I of 1894. 3. For section 54 of the said Act, the following section shall be substituted, namely :—

"54. (1) Subject to the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, applicable to appeals from original decrees and notwithstanding anything to the contrary in any Act of a local legislature, an appeal shall only lie in any proceedings under this Act to the High Court from the award or from any part of the award of the Court and, subject also to the provisions hereinafter contained, to His Majesty in Council from that of the High Court V of 1908.

(2) No appeal shall lie to His Majesty in Council unless—

(i) the amount in dispute in the appeal is ten thousand rupees or upwards, and

(ii) the appeal involves some substantial question of law."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The object of this Bill is two-fold :—

Firstly, to secure the right of appeal to the High Court whatever the amount of claim of compensation may be. The amendment is necessitated because the High Court of Bombay has held that where a claim under Rs. 5,000 in value has been decided by a Court of first instance, an appeal lies to the District Court in virtue of section 16 of the Bombay Civil Courts Act, 1869 (XIV of 1869), and the right of appeal given by section 54 of the Land Acquisition Act, 1894 (I of 1894) is thus exhausted and no further appeal lies to the High Court (cf. Nathubhai vs. Manordas, 14 Bombay Law Reporter, 335, and Ahmedbhoy vs. Waman, 16 Bombay Law Reporter, 72);

Secondly to secure the right of appeal to His Majesty in Council in cases where the amount in dispute in the appeal is Rs. 10,000 or upwards and the appeal involves some substantial question of law. An appeal to His Majesty in Council was allowed in land acquisition proceedings as a matter of course subject to the provisions of sections 109 and 110 of the Civil Procedure Code, 1908 (Act V of 1908). But the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council held in Rangoon Botatoung Company, Limited, vs. The Collector of Rangoon (L. R. 33 Indian Appeals, 1917) that in proceedings under the Land Acquisition Act, 1894, no appeal lay to the Privy Council from the award of the Chief Court of Lower Burma inasmuch as section 54 of the Land Acquisition Act, 1894, gave only a special and limited right of appeal to the High Court from the award of the Court and therefore no further appeal lay to His Majesty in Council. In the light of this pronouncement the High Court of Bombay has also recently held that no appeal lies to His Majesty in Council from its decision under the Land Acquisition Act, 1894. (The Special Officer, Salsette Building Sites vs. Dossabhai, 24 Bombay Law Reporter, 1196). The proposed amendment is intended to give in express terms a right of appeal to His Majesty in Council—a right which was not doubted and which was often exercised till the decision in the Rangoon case.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The object of this Bill is to provide the additional resources referred to in my speech to-day introducing the Budget for 1921-22. It is proposed to do this by amending the existing schedules of the Indian Tariff Act, 1894, the Indian Post Office Act, 1898, the Indian Income-tax Act, 1918, the Super-Tax Act, 1920, and the Freight (Railway and Inland Steam-vessel) Tax Act, 1917.

2. Clause 3 of the Bill substitutes a revised Schedule for the import tariff. The substantive changes made by the new Schedule are—

(1) The raising of the general ad valorem import duty of 7½ per cent. to 11 per cent. except in the case of matches and certain articles of luxury

(2) The withdrawal of the concession allowed by the existing tariff under which machinery and stores imported for use in cotton mills are admitted free of import duty.

(3) The levy of a specific import duty of 12 annas per gross boxes of matches in place of the present ad valorem duty of 7½ per cent. In order to avoid evasion of duty by foreign manufacturers increasing the size of their boxes an extra duty is imposed on boxes containing more than 76 matches (vide item No. 44.)

(4) Increase of the duty on liquors, the new duties on spirits being based on a duty of 3 annas per degree of proof per gallon (vide items 29 to 34 of the Schedule).

(5) The raising of the general ad valorem duty of 7½ per cent. to 20 per cent in the case of certain articles of luxury (vide part V of the Schedule).

(6) The raising of the import duty on sugar from 10 to 15 per cent

(7) The raising of the import duties on tobacco, other than manufactured tobacco, by 50 per cent.

3. At the same time, opportunity has been taken of incorporating in the Schedule certain exemptions which have been granted by notification under section 23 of the Sea Customs Act since the Schedule was last revised and of clearing up certain doubts which the wording of the existing Schedule in some items has given rise to. Metallic ores have also been transferred to the free list

4. Clause 3 substitutes a new Schedule for the existing Schedule to the Indian Post Office Act, 1898, the more important changes being—

(1) Abolition of the half anna postage for letters, the charges in future to be one anna for letters not exceeding 2½ tolas in weight and half an anna for every additional 2½ tolas

(2) Raising to half an anna the quarter of an anna post card

(3) Various miscellaneous changes in the rates for packet post and registered newspapers.

5. Clause 4 substitutes a new Schedule for the existing Schedule I of the Freight (Railway and Inland Steam-vessel) Tax Act, 1917, the effect of which will be—

(1) to increase the rate on coal, coke and fire-wood from 1 pie to 3 pies per maund and on food grains and fodder from 2 pies to 6 pies;

(2) to increase the rate from 2 pies to 3 annas per maund on certain valuable commodities such as piece-goods, pressed cotton, jute, ironware, timber and oils, mentioned in entry No. 2 of the new Schedule;

(3) to increase from 3 pies to 1 anna per maund the tax on all other articles.

6. Clauses 5 and 8 substitute new Schedules for the existing operative Schedules of the Income-tax and Super tax Acts, respectively, the result of which will be—in the case of income-tax as follows :—

Income.	Pice per rupee. Present.	Proposed.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 1st March 1921 :—

No. 8 of 1921.

A Bill further to amend the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908; It is hereby enacted as follows:— V of 1

Short title. 1. This Act may be called the Code of Civil Procedure (Amendment) Act, 1921.

Insertion of new section 35A in Act V of 1908. 2. In Part I of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 (hereinafter referred to as the said Code), after section 35, the following section shall be inserted, namely :— V of 1

"35. A (1) Where in a suit any defendant appears and objects to the claim on the ground that it or any part of it is as against himself false to the knowledge of the plaintiff or any of the plaintiffs, the Court may, if the objection has been taken at the earliest opportunity and if thereafter as against such defendant the suit is dismissed wholly or in part or is withdrawn or part of the claim is abandoned and it is satisfied of the justice of the objection, direct the payment to such defendant of such amount as costs by way of damages as it thinks fit :

Compensatory costs in fraudulent suits.

Provided that no such direction for the payment of an amount exceeding one thousand rupees shall be made by any Court other than a High Court.

(2) No person who has been directed to pay costs to a defendant under sub-section (1) shall by reason of such direction be exempted from any criminal liability in respect of any claim made by him."

Amendment of section 96, Act V of 1908. 3. To section 96 of the said Code, the following sub-section shall be added, namely :—

"(4) No appeal shall lie from any decree solely on the ground that the Court has or has not directed the payment of compensatory costs to a defendant under section 35A or has directed the payment of an excessive or inadequate amount."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The attention of the Government of India has been drawn from time to time to the very great evil arising from the institution of fraudulent and dishonest suits. Though vigorous efforts have been made for many years to eradicate the evil the reports received by Government show that it still continues rife in certain Provinces and the object of this Bill is to add another method to those already in existence for meeting it. Briefly, it is proposed to insert a provision in the Civil Procedure Code empowering Courts to award compensatory costs in fraudulent suits on the analogy of the provisions of section 250 of the Code of Criminal Procedure. It is hoped that the insertion of this provision in the Civil Procedure Code will assist in preventing the institution of such suits. An appeal will lie from an order for costs when an appeal lies against the main decree in a suit, but not otherwise, and there will be no appeal from an order refusing to give compensatory costs.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The present Factories Act, which was passed in 1911, was based on the recommendations of the Factory Labour Commission of 1907-08. Ten years' experience of its working has disclosed a number of defects, some of which were given prominence in the Report of the Industrial Commission of 1918. The International Labour Organisation, which has been formed since that date, represents an endeavour, by concerted action in different countries, to improve the conditions of labour throughout the world. The International Labour Conference at its first meeting held at Washington in 1919, adopted a number of draft conventions and recommendations which have already been submitted to the legislature.

The present Bill embodies the provisions of the draft conventions and recommendations, as far as it is possible to give effect to them in India, and in addition endeavours to remedy a few other defects in the present Act that have been pointed out by the Industrial Commission, the Indian Cotton Committee, and various official and non-official bodies and individuals.

The principal features of the Bill are :—

(1) The provision of further protection for children by raising the maximum and minimum ages, reducing the hours in non-textile factories, providing for intervals of rest, and inserting additional safeguards in respect of certification.

(2) The limitation of adult hours in all classes of factories by daily and weekly maximal with lengthened intervals of rest and more stringent provisions for weekly holidays.

(3) A considerable extension in the definition of factories, and the enunciation of definite principles to regulate the grant of exemptions from the provisions of the Act.

The detailed changes proposed in the law are explained in the sub-joined Notes on Clauses.

NOTES ON CLAUSES.

Clause 2 (a).—The upper age of children has remained at 14 since the second Factories Act was passed in 1891. A child of 14 is not equal to the strain of a full day's work, and in most foreign countries, much higher limits are enforced. It is proposed to raise the upper limit of age to 15.

Clause 2 (b).—Under the existing Act, only those factories are included which use mechanical power and employ not less than 50 persons. Local Governments have the power to include factories employing not less than 20 persons, and this power has been used in the mill area round Calcutta and elsewhere. There is reason to believe that abuses are more likely to occur in small factories than in large ones. The draft convention fixing the minimum age of admission into industrial employment provides that in British India, children of less than 12 years of age shall not be employed in factories working with power and employing 10 persons or more. It is prima facie desirable that the Act should be amended so as to include all factories employing as few as 10 persons, but it would be impossible for Local Governments in the present circumstances, to provide the inspecting staff necessary to ensure effective administration of the smaller factories. It is therefore proposed to include all factories using mechanical power and employing 20 persons or more, and to give Local Governments the power to extend the operation of the Act to factories employing 10 persons.

There are some factories in which, although no mechanical power is employed, the labour is extremely arduous, and while such factories are probably rare, it is desirable that Local Governments should be able to include them, where necessary. Provision for this is accordingly made.

Clause 2 (c).—The definition is necessary in view of the proposed regulations of weekly hours.

Clause 3.—It is undesirable that electrical generating and transforming stations, and lodges, tea and coffee factories should enjoy complete exemption from the provisions of the Act. In respect of such provisions as those relating to health and safety, for example, the workers in them require protection as much as any other class of industrial workers. The latitude necessary for quasi-agricultural factories is provided by clause 17.

Clause 4.—This will enable certifying surgeons to prevent the continued employment of children who, although found fit when first admitted, have since become unfit.

Clause 5.—This is intended to prevent persons who do not possess proper qualifications from exercising the powers of a certifying surgeon.

Clause 6.—This is designed to secure the same object as clause 4—the exclusion of children who have become physically unfit.

Clause 7.—It is generally recognised that excessive humidification should be checked. Investigations in progress in India with the object of designing standards and methods for limiting humidification were suspended on account of the war. The Government of India hope to make arrangements to resume these investigations in the course of the present year. This clause, read with clause 21, will make it possible to provide for the control by rules of artificial humidification.

Clause 8.—This is designed to secure fencing for live wires and for electrical fittings, which are, in many cases, extremely dangerous to human life.

Clause 9.—Accidents caused by defects in the factory structure have been numerous and it is at present impossible to prohibit the use of dangerous machinery. This clause is intended to secure the safety of operatives in both respects.

Clause 10.—It is customary in many parts of India for working women to bring their children of tender age into factories. It is not desirable to prevent the admission of such children until adequate provision has been made for their safe custody while their mothers are at work. But it is desirable that Inspectors should be able to prohibit the admission of infants to places where there is obvious danger to health or to life and limb. This is provided for by the new section 19-A.

The new section 19-B is intended to give effect to the recommendation of the Washington Conference relating to the protection of women and children against lead poisoning. The details have been relegated to Schedules.

Clause 11.—The existing section 20 was designed to prevent danger by fire to women and children working near cotton-openers. It is not necessary for this purpose that the partition should extend to the roof; and a partition extending to the roof frequently makes ventilation difficult. This clause will enable Inspectors to permit a lower partition where that is consistent with safety.

Clause 12.—Experience and investigation have shown that an interval of half an hour is inadequate for refreshment and rest. This clause will make an interval of one hour compulsory for adults, and will provide an interval of half an hour for all children working more than 5 hours. But, as it is impossible in certain industries, and inconvenient in many others, to provide for a complete stoppage of work for one hour, the existing section has been amended so as to make it possible for any employer, without previous application to the Inspector, to arrange that his employees should have their intervals at different times. It is thus possible to dispense with many of the present, exceptions to the section, but certain necessary relaxations are given by the new sections 29, 30 and 32, contained in clause 17.

Clause 13.—The existing section is unnecessarily cumbrous and lends itself to evasions. The new section is designed to secure, as far as this is possible, a weekly holiday for all persons employed in factories. Sunday has been retained as the normal day for the weekly holiday, but a provision has been inserted enabling employers to substitute any other day for any or all of the workers they employ over definite periods. By the use of this provision, it should be possible for managers of factories involving continuous processes to arrange that every worker shall have a weekly holiday. Ample power has, however, been retained in new sections 29, 30 and 32 to grant exemptions where these are absolutely necessary.

Clause 14.—In accordance with the draft convention fixing the minimum age for admission of children to industrial employment, it is proposed to raise the minimum age of children from 9 to 12. At the same time, in order to avoid undue dislocation of industry, it is necessary to introduce transitional provisions. It is therefore provided that children who have been lawfully admitted to factories shall not be excluded, and advantage has been taken of the period allowed by article 11 of the draft convention to defer the introduction of the limit of 12 till 1st July 1922. At the same time, the maximum hours of work for children are fixed at the limit at present in force for textile factories.

Clause 15.—These amendments are necessary in order to make the enforcement of the 60-hour week and the other restrictions on adult labour possible.

Clause 16.—The present section 27 has been condemned by all Factory Inspectors who have attempted to work it. It has also been condemned by the Indian Cotton Committee. This clause will secure its repeal. It will also provide for the 60-hour week required by the draft convention limiting the hours of work in industrial undertakings. The new section 28 will bring non-textile and extile factories into line in respect of adult hours.

Clause 17.—It is proposed to repeal the whole of the present Chapter V as such. The limitations on the hours of work for adults and children are now applied to both textile and non-textile factories. The restrictions on the hours between which adult males may be employed, contained in the present section 29, and on the hours during which machinery may be used, contained in the present section 31, are no longer necessary, and the exceptions contained in the present section 30, like those contained in the present sections 21 and 22, are reduced to principles and restricted as far as possible.

At present the Act contains three types of exceptions—

(1) Certain classes of factories are excluded by the defining sections.

(2) Others are excluded from the operations of certain sections by Schedules or by express sections.

(3) These are further supplemented by general provisions laying down principles on which further exemptions can be granted.

It is desirable that exemptions should be given only when they are necessary, and particular cases must be judged individually on their merits.

The general principles that should govern exemptions are therefore laid down in a new Chapter and the application of these is left to Local Governments, subject in most cases to the control of the Central Government. These principles are based, in respect of sections which have counterparts in the present Act, on the principles already embodied in the Act, while, in respect of the 60 hour week, the further latitude permitted by the draft convention has been utilised. At the same time, a provision has been inserted providing for the payment of overtime at special rates, as required by the draft convention.

Clause 18.—This is designed to secure sufficient notice to enable an Inspector to make an early inspection of a new factory.

Clauses 19 and 20.—The register and notices now provided for will be necessary to secure the enforcement of the new provisions relating to hours of work.

Clause 21.—The amendments are consequential on alterations in previous sections.

Clause 22.—This is intended to make it possible to give effect to the recommendation adopted at Washington concerning the prevention of anthrax if investigation should establish the advisability of so doing.

Clause 23.—The changes are verbal and consequential.

Clauses 24, 25 and 27.—The present scale of maximum fines, which was laid down in 1891, has become inadequate on account of the decrease in the purchasing power of money and the development of large-scale establishments in India. The other change in section 41 is consequential.

Clause 26.—The new section will enable Courts to direct that fines imposed in respect of offences causing injury shall be devoted towards providing compensation for the injuries.

Clause 28.—The existing section is designed to make it dangerous for managers to employ underaged and uncertificated children. It has proved ineffective, as a manager who wishes to evade the law can always send the children he is employing unlawfully into the precincts of the factory on the approach of the Inspector. The amendment is designed to prevent this practice.

Clause 29.—An offence against section 44 is punishable only by a small fine. There is therefore no reason for insisting on its trial by a first-class Magistrate.

Clause 30.—This follows the usual practice in appellate jurisdiction. There is at present no express provision enabling parties to obtain relief from an unreasonable order during the hearing of an appeal.

Clause 31.—As already explained, the Schedules dealing with land processes have replaced the Schedules of exemptions.

Clause 32.—Section 55 confers a special privilege on Burma which is considered to be no longer justifiable, and which contravenes the general principle that every worker should have a weekly holiday. Sub-section (2) (4) is unnecessary in view of the provisions of section 4. The other repeals are formal.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 1st March 1921 :—

No. 11 OF 1921.

A Bill to declare the rights of Hindus to make transfers and bequests in favour of unborn persons in the City of Madras.

WHEREAS it is expedient to declare the rights of Hindus to make transfers and bequests in favour of unborn persons in the City of Madras ; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Short title. 1. This Act may be called the Hindu Transfers and Bequests (City of Madras) Act, 192 . Mad. Act I 1914.

Application and extent. 2. (1) This Act shall apply to all transfers inter vivos and Wills made by persons governed by the Hindu law who are domiciled within the limits of the Ordinary Original Civil Jurisdiction of the High Court of Madras.

(2) In the case of transfers inter vivos or wills executed before the date of this Act, the provisions of this Act shall apply to such of the dispositions thereby made as are intended to come into operation at a time which is subsequent to the 14th February 1914 :

Provided that nothing contained in this section shall affect bona fide transferees for valuable consideration in whom the right to any property has vested prior to the date of this Act.

Explanation.—Hindus governed by the Marumakkathayam or the Aliyasantana law shall be deemed to be persons governed by the Hindu Law for the purposes of this Act.

Transfers and bequests in favour of unborn persons. 3. A transfer inter vivos or disposition by will of any property shall not be invalid by reason only that the transferee or legatee is an unborn person at the date of the transfer or the death of the testator, as the case may be.

Rule against perpetuity in regard to transfers. 4. No transfer of property can operate to create an interest which is to take effect after the life-time of one or more persons living at the date of the transfer and the minority of some person who shall be in existence at the expiration of that period and to whom if he attains full age the interest created is to belong.

Rule against perpetuity in regard to bequests. 5. No bequest is valid whereby the vesting of the thing bequeathed may be delayed beyond the lifetime of one or more persons living at the testator's decease, and the minority of some person who shall be in existence at the expiration of that period, and to whom, if he attains full age, the thing bequeathed is to belong.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Act I of 1914 (Madras Act) was intended to apply to all Hindus within the Presidency of Madras. The Madras High Court have recently held that the local Legislature had no power to take away the right of a person domiciled within the Ordinary Original Civil Jurisdiction of the High Court of Madras, to be governed by the Hindu law as it stood when the Royal Charter Act, 24 & 25 Vic., Ch., 104, was issued. Although it is open to argument that as the Madras Act only declared the Hindu law as it always has been and not as understood by the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council in the Tagore Case, it is not desirable that the matter should be left in doubt after the decision of the High Court. Many dispositions of property are understood to have been made in the City of Madras in conformity with the provisions of Act I of 1914 (Madras). After the passing of the said Act, the Imperial Legislature passed Act XV of 1916 with the same object. Power has been reserved in section 2 of the said Act, to the Governor-General in Council to extend the operation of this Act to the Province of Madras. While it is doubtful if, in the exercise of that power, the provisions of the Act may be extended to the City of Madras alone, there is no provision in the Imperial Act XV of 1916 as to retrospective operation as is contained in the Madras Act, and as it is understood that the absence of such a provision will affect some dispositions of property already made and as it is desirable that there should be uniformity and consistency in the law administered in the Presidency of Madras, it is desirable that a new Act extending Act I of 1914 (Madras) should be passed by the Imperial Legislature.
